Dear Toni:

Thank you for taking the time to attend my 15th annual Inventors Conference and sharing your expertise with attendees. Since Wyoming's territorial days, there have been thousands of inventions patented in Wyoming and I attribute this to our state's frontier spirit and can-do attitude. What always impresses me about the people of our state is their ability to come up with new ideas to solve the most complex of problems and I appreciate your providing our guests with the tools to solve those problems.

I started this conference to reach a wide variety of people and it has become a powerful avenue to help residents take their innovative ideas to the next level. As you know, a good idea or invention could be all that it takes to make a business grow and thrive, but it is hard to be successful without knowing how best to patent, market and sell your invention. Those ideas and inventions don't "just happen", it takes commitment, perseverance, and most of all work to make those ideas a reality, and the people of Wyoming know how to make that happen.

With your help, this event provided valuable support and resources individuals need to help their ideas get off the ground. In today's rapidly changing marketplace any additional boost we can give to Wyoming's small business owners and inventors will keep Wyoming on the forefront of innovation.

I wish you success in your future endeavors and truly appreciate your role in making this year's conference another successful conference for Wyoming inventors! I hope to see you again next year.

Sincerely,

Michael Enzi
